Inadequate channel for barges, at least, through the Cucharachia slide, the company secured a lot of barges that have been used for harbour purpose at Colon and Panama, and established this service by an overture to assist the railroad in meeting the trade demands.

Colonel Goethals has not yet reported to Washington just when the canal will be opened to merchant shipping but the understanding is that the waterway is practically finished and that even now there is a sufficient channel through the Culebra cut for almost any warship or liner, and that it is only from a desire to avoid a possible serious accident through an unexpected renewal of the earth movements in the cut that Colonel Goethals has determined to allow a period for observation before actually opening the canal.

It is understood that this harbor service is to be operated on about twelve hours' schedule from the Atlantic to the Pacific, which allows about an hour's delay in each of the locks.

FORMER COMMISSARY MANAGER BURKE IS INDICTED

New York, May 14.—John Burke, former manager of the commissary department of the Panama canal offices, was indicted by the federal grand jury here today for conspiracy to defraud and for other alleged offenses. He was dismissed some time ago.

Indictments were also returned against three provision dealers at Colon, Panama. At the time of Burke's removal it was alleged that he had accepted gratuities from dealers in supplies. His case has been under investigation by the grand jury here for three months.

ANOTHER CHARGE BROUGHT AGAINST A. R. DEASON

He Admits Getting a Watch by Fraud from Central Avenue Jeweller. He and His Wife Held.

When A. R. Deason and Delta Deason were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Craig this morning to answer to a charge of obtaining transportation by false representation, the former was called upon to face an additional charge. He is accused of having obtained a $50 watch from S. T. Vann, the Central avenue jeweller, by false representation, and the Santa Fe police say he is the man who stole a watch from a brakeman two weeks ago in the Grand Central hotel. It is also alleged by the Santa Fe police that Deason obtained another watch by fraud in Las Vegas.

Deason pleaded guilty to the charge of obtaining the watch from Vann. He was held for the grand jury under $500 bond on the transportation charge and $250 on the other charge.

The sum of $250. Neither could furnish band and confinement papers made out.

As has been told, Deason and his wife were arrested Tuesday while travelling to Tucson on passes alleged to have been stolen from the Santa Fe office here. They were remanded pending further investigation. It was thought at first that another man was implicated in the theft of the pass but the Santa Fe authorities say now that they are convinced Deason himself stole them. George H. Thomas, special agent for the Santa Fe, unearthened Deason's operation at the Vann store and his alleged connection with the Grand Central theft and the other watch case while working up the transportation case against the couple.

In obtaining the watch from Vann, Deason went to the store and represented himself as a Santa Fe brakeman. He bought the watch under a real brakeman's name, and had it charged. The company was preparing to hold back money from the brakeman's wages to pay the installments on the watch when Deason was caught.

The pictures will be taken under the direction of Mr. Beyer. He said to do that the work of picture-taking will begin May 20th at Santa Fe. The picture machine will be worked south from Santa Fe. It is expected that the contract will require six months to complete. The pictures, of course, will all be local, so that the company will not have to put a motion picture cast on the road in connection with film-making.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally. As a well-known authority, Mead says tric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular or passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacist, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

LONDON DRINK BILL MOUNTS TO ALARMING FIGURES

Expenditure for Alcoholic Liquors Shows Increase of Twenty-Five Million Dollars in Past Year.

ALCOHOLISM RESULTS IN AWFUL MORTALITY

Twenty-Eight Hundred Men and Two Thousand Women Died During 1912 from Acute Delerium Tremens.

London, May 14.—The drink bill of the United Kingdom for the past year shows an increase of twenty-five million dollars. The United Kingdom Alliance, whose mission is to decrease the consumption of alcoholic liquors, makes this report, and suggests that the increase is probably due to unprecedented prosperity for the Kingdom has never experienced a greater wage bill. The encouraging features, according to the Alliance, is a decrease shown in the per capita consumption, which attained its maximum during similar trade revivals in 1874 and 1899.

A discouraging feature is the increase in the consumption of spirits, which leads with an increase of 1,287,000 gallons. Beer is second with 1,062,000 gallons and wine third with 121,000 gallons. The share of beer and wine in the total bill of £11,000,000 in the drink bill for 1912 was 11%, while the average for a family of five persons was 13%. Since these figures do not allow for boys and girls under 15 years of age and the total abstainers, it may be assumed that among the drinkers the average consumption exceeds the average figure for all persons for drinks is much higher than stated.

During 1912, 2,882 men and 2,074 women were certified to have died in England and Wales alone as the result of alcoholism. This number does not include those whose deaths have been certified as the result of alcohol. Dr. W. Cudlipp is quoted in the report as making the estimate that 20 per cent of the suicides in the United Kingdom are due to the use of alcoholic stimulants.

A startling feature of the infant mortality figures furnished by the report is the fact that in 1912, 1,174 babies under the age of one year were suffocated while sleeping with their parents or other sides and the organization claims that most of these cases can be laid at the door of alcohol indulgence. The organization also points out the effect of alcohol on the physique of the race, on crime and on divorce.

Without anaesthesia or modern instruments native surgeons among the Bedouins of the Algerian hinterland have become so skillful that they do not hesitate to undertake operations as delicate as trepanning. This report is brought by H. Hylton-Simpson, who accompanied by his wife, has just returned from a scientific expedition among these almost unknown nomadic tribes of the desert. The explorer and his wife lived among the natives and established the closest relations with the ruling sheiks of remote villages.

They found that surgery had grown to a ready skilled profession. Hylton-Simpson was lucky enough to come in contact with a friendly Arabian physician who arranged a meeting for him with the tribe's three surgeons. From this he collected a mass of interesting information and a valuable collection of native surgical instruments. Their saws, lancets and probes are of the crudest design but prove highly effective in the hands of the native operators. The only training these native surgeons have is instruction from their fathers. Very few of them are able to read or write.

Trepanning operations are probably more common in this country than anywhere else in the world because of the frequency with which the natives resort to stone throwing in a fight. The use of an anaesthetic is unknown and pain is regarded with sufficient contempt that the people seem impervious to it. Hylton-Simpson gives one of these cases in which a boy was operated on for fifteen days for the removal of a small piece of skull. The operation was successful and the patient recovered. Besides surgery the natives claim to have discovered two hundred cures for various diseases.

MOLINA FINED $100 FOR CARRYING A CONCEALED WEAPON

It went hard with Abel Molina, ex-convict, who made his first day out of prison riotous, when he faced Justice of the Peace George B. Craig this afternoon. Abel was arrested Tuesday night by Officer Tony Guevara after he had been creating a disturbance on the street. When Abel reached the city jail he promptly fell to fighting with Eduardo Cruz, another ex-convict lodged in the jail.

When Abel was arraigned today the police proved that he had been carrying a revolver previous to the time he encountered the policeman Tuesday night. Taking the revolver and all the other things into consideration, Justice Craig fined Molina $100. He was committed to jail in default of payment.

DEFENSE MAKES STRONG CASE IN COURT MARTIAL

Denver, May 14.—When the general court martial, which is trying Major Patrick J. Hamrock on charges of arson, murder, manslaughter and larceny, in connection with the Ludlow battle and fire April 28, convened today Lieut. R. W. Benedict, battalion adjutant, was recalled. Questioned as to the number of militiamen at Ludlow and Cedar Hill, he introduced the official roll call. These showed on April 28 a total of seven officers and 37 men, including members of the hospital corps and other non-combatants, and April 21 a total of 165 officers and men.

Lieut. Gary S. Lawrence testified that Major Hamrock ordered his detachment to take and hold a position on the extreme right flank of the militia at the Ludlow battle and not to fire unless attacked by strikers. He told of the killing of Private A. Martin and the wounding of Private Louis Purcell. The militia right wing, he said, was driven back early in the day and not until 6 that evening were the men under Lieuts. M. C. Bigelow and K. E. Linderfelt and himself able to drive the strikers from their position in the Colorado & Southern railroad cut. Lawrence testified that for several hours strikers occupied ground where Martin's body lay, that repeated dashes the militia took the position and found the body badly mutilated. He said a cartridge clip from a German automatic gun was lying beside the body, that the first aid bandage which bound the wound had been torn off, the face mutilated, holes found through the mouth and body and his pockets rifled.

No word from United Mine Workers of America officials inviting them to produce witnesses had been received by the court. A statement issued by John R. Lawson, John McLean and E. L. Doyle, policy committee for the strikers, said they would produce no witnesses and charged the militia with having held strikers "incommunicado," administered the third degree on prisoners, judged the habeas corpus, turned the Ludlow tent colony and murdered Louis Tikas.
